ABSTRACT

This paper titled Internally Generated Revenue in the Local Government System and Sustainable Community Development is aimed at identifying strategies to improving the sources and utilization of internally generated funds in the local government system in Nigeria. The study adopted survey research design. The study is anchored on the theory of structural functionalism. The study established that inefficient monitoring of revenue officials led to poor revenue generation; that absence or poor entrepreneurial skill among revenue officials led to poor revenue generation; that absence or poor entrepreneurial skill among revenue officers brought about inadequate revenue generation capacity of the local government. The implication of findings is that the internal sources of revenue to the local government are not fully tapped, while the available revenues are not properly utilized in carrying out the constitutional functions of the third tier government. The study equally concluded that the over dependency on statutory allocation have incapacitated the local government from effective revenue drive. It recommends thus; the institution of disciplinary measures so that any council worker (revenue officers) who violates established rules regarding revenue generation should be dealt with, that honest staff (revenue officers) should be rewarded through giving them fringe benefits or promotion.
